To Whom this may concern,

Peter's Yard is a Swedish artisan bakery. We produce a wide variety of breads everyday for selling in our Coffee house and for sandwiches. We believe in using the best ingredients available.

Trevor Ross has been working on a voluntary basis with us at Peter's Yard over the past two months.

He has been a really strong member of our team, covering in the front of house taking orders, serving coffee or doing dishes.

He's worked in the bakery learning how to make bread and pastry. He has gained a solid basic understanding of bread making from experienced members of our team.

He has also given demonstrations in our kitchen to several members of staff. He has helped creating and executing new menus.

It has been a great pleasure working with Trevor. His enthusiasm for food and learning would make him as asset to any culinary team. I would employ Trevor in the future.

Yours Sincerely
